

● WARM UP

Having sat and walked, we have created a healthy kingdom-minded environment in our lives. Paul gives us the last action in our journey to see the world transformed: stand. Society simply has to transform if we are to live to our true purpose and potential as Christ-ians. Every area of life is an opportunity to stand for what is right, and resist that which is wrong. In a secular society this has become increasingly difficult to do. Our authority/dominion in Christ does, however, give us the wisdom and strategies for this. We are beacons of hope, lights in the darkness.

● BACKGROUND

After speaking to the Ephesians, Paul can boldly charge them with a mission to influence society. We have become aware of our power source. We are assured of our salvation. We serve through our abundance. And now we can stand because we already have our authority. It is not something we have earned. It is a gift.

● QUESTIONS

- 1 What are you doing to live out your spiritual authority in your workplace?

- 2 Write down all the places that the members of the group work in. Then write down how many employees each company has. Count the total of people your group has influence over.

- 3 Now pray as a group, and dedicate each workplace to the Father. Pray for wisdom to influence those areas. Write down your strategy.

● CONSIDER THIS

Do you remember the story of Simba in the Lion King? He forgets his identity. But while he is lost, he meets Raphiki (the wise one). Raphiki points him to the reflection in the water. And then he says, "Do you see him? He is in you". When Simba discovers that his father has never left him, and that he is in him, he returns to the kingdom, and claims back his crown. You have the same privilege, because of Christ.

"I do not consecrate myself to be a missionary or a preacher. I consecrate myself to God to do His will where I am, be it in school, office, or kitchen or wherever He may, in His wisdom, send me." Watchman Nee
